SMASHING CHINESE VICTORIES IN NORTH KIANGSU

Tungtai, Yencheng And Haianchen Recaptured

JUKAO BEING BESIEGED

Tunkli, July 31. Smashing through the thin Japanese lines after the transfer of large contingents to the Yangtse River front, Chinese troops in north Kiangsi have successfully recaptured Tungtai, Yencheng and Haianchen.

The units which recaptured Haianchen are besieging Jukao, 25 kilometres south, whilst those which re-occupied Yencheng are pressing on Nantungchow. The outskirts of Jukao are already under Chinese control.

It is learned that Hauei, an important junction of the Tientsin-Pukow Railway and the Lunghai Railway in north Kiangsu, which the Chinese successfully held for more than four months in the face of determined Japanese drives from both the south and north, is now garrisoned by only 2,000 Japanese. The bulk of the garrison troops has been transferred to the Yangtse River front.—(Central News).

JAPANESE DRIVES CHECKED
Shanghai, Hontan, July 31. More than 20,000 Japanese troops at the Kuwo-Howma sector in south Shansi, who have been pushing southwards along the Kianghsien-Yuanku highway, are now held in check by the Chinese.

JAPANESE OIL STORAGE FIRE

Hankow, July 31. A big fire broke out in the Japanese oil storage in Yangtsepo Road shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was not quelled until 8 o'clock in the evening.
Fire brigades of the International Settlement hurrying to the scene were stopped by Japanese sentries on the way on the ground that Yangtsepo Road is within the Japanese defence area. The cause of the fire and the extent of damage done have not been revealed by the Japanese authorities.—(Central News).

SHANGHAI NEWS BAN

Shanghai, July 31. American and British newspapers published here in the Chinese language have been informed by the Shanghai Municipal Council that on and after August 1 they should not publish certain sensational news. This is interpreted in journalistic circles to mean news referring to the Japanese.—(International).

Manufacture Of Bombs In Shanghai

Shanghai, July 31. Large consignments of machinery arrived here from Japan to be installed in the Kiangnan Dock and Engineering Company for the manufacture of bombs, cartridges, steel foundry and general repairs.
About 800 workmen will be employed.—(International).

Chinese Retake Shihchen

Tungkwang, July 31. Over 3,000 Japanese troops have left Linfen in south Shansi for the north, and about 4,000 are left behind to garrison the town. Chinese troops laid siege of the town yesterday.
Some Japanese soldiers attempted to escape by crossing the Fen River to the west but found that a Chinese cordon had been thrown there. The Japanese retreated to Linfen, located on the east bank of the Fen River, and closed the city gates.

In east Honan, Chinese recaptured Shihchen on July 29 whereupon the Japanese retreated to Haichow in the south-east with the Chinese in pursuit.—(International).

Improvement In Situation In Rangoon

REGRET EXPRESSED BY AGA KHAN

Rangoon, July 31. A further distinct improvement in the situation here was revealed this morning but the military authorities have not relaxed tight control.

One person was killed when the military police opened fire on rioters in east Rangoon. Reports received here indicate that trouble has broken out on a minor scale in some provinces and a number of cases of assault have occurred in Mandalay.

The Premier, Dr. Bama, dressed in the striking uniform of Commander of the Burmese Youth Movement League, is motoring through the city supervising rescue work and counselling calm.

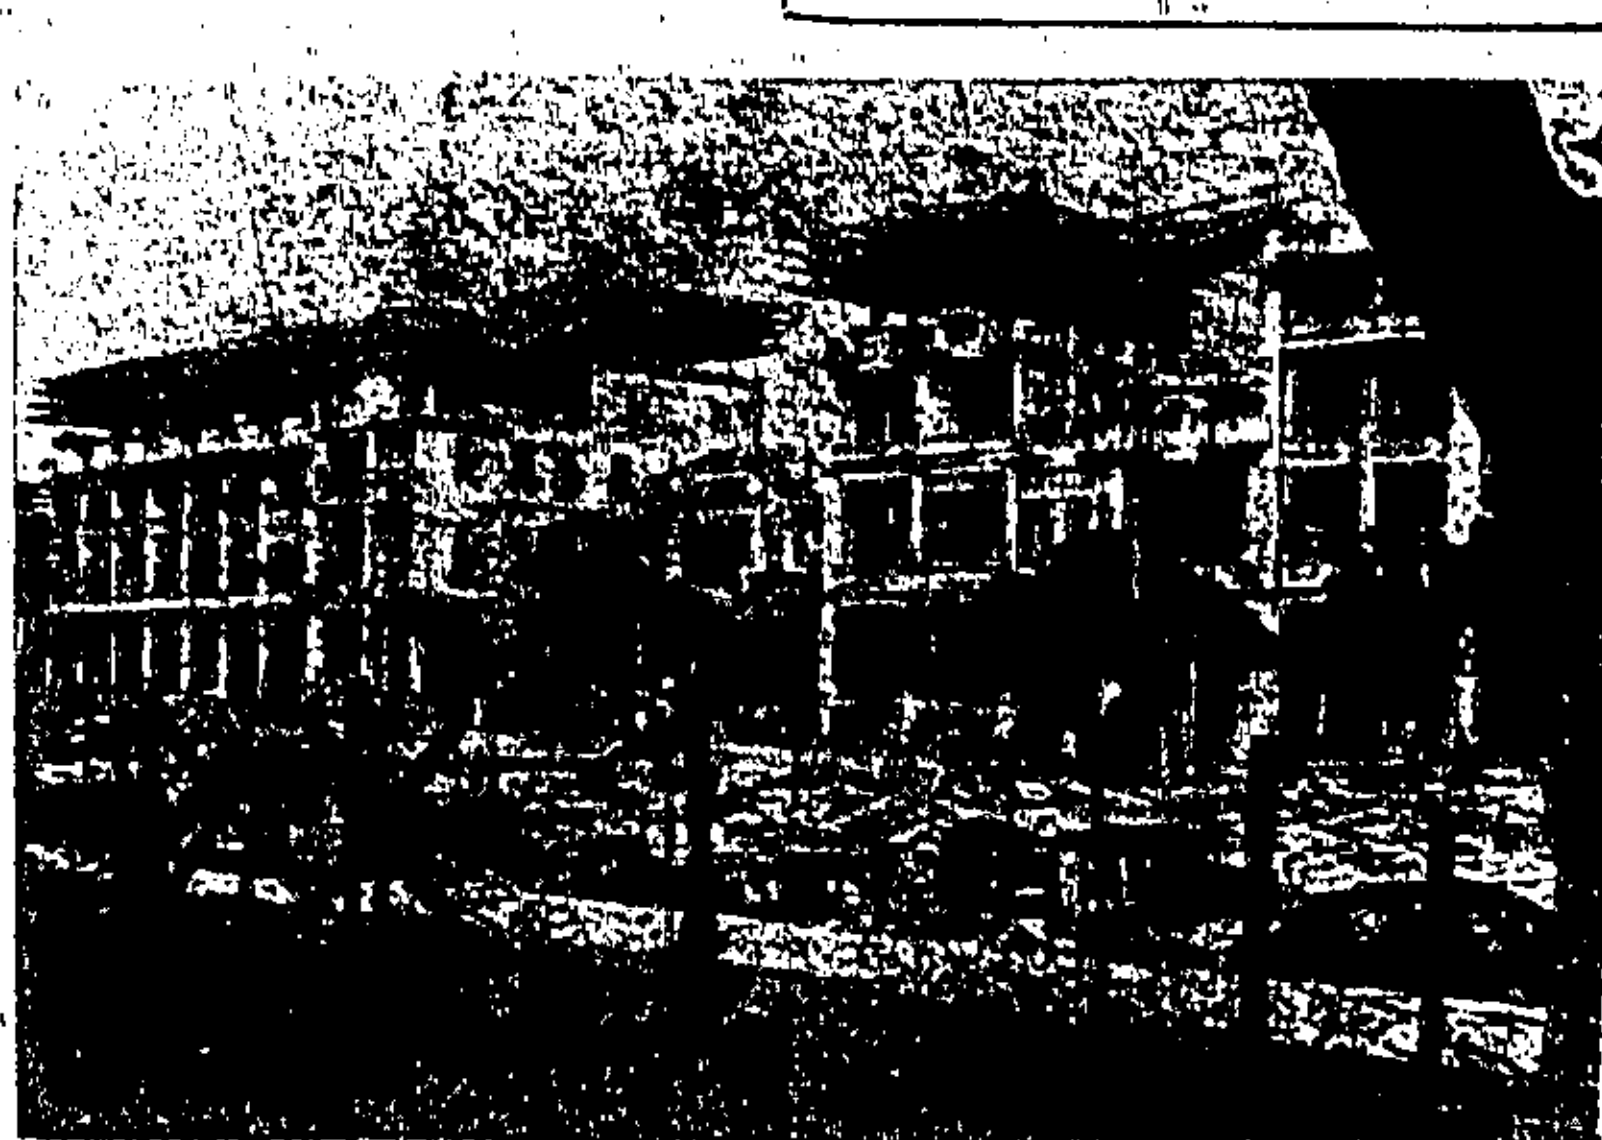

A cable from the Aga Khan in London has been received expressing distress at the trouble between Moslems and Buddhists and urging the Moslems to respect the customs and faith of the people among whom the Moslem live.—(Reuter).

"MISSIONARY OF PEACE"

London, July 31. The Czechoslovak problem forms the theme of leading articles in most of the Sunday papers here. The Sunday Times describes Lord Runciman as a "missionary of peace" and remarks that his principal task will consist in endeavouring to prevent a clash between the conflicting parties in Czechoslovakia.

The paper goes on to say that for Czechoslovakia strict neutrality is the only possible policy as it is for Switzerland, the Netherlands and Belgium. It will be Lord Runciman's duty to see whether the desires of the Sudeten Germans can be reconciled with the necessities of the new Czechoslovak State.—(Trans-ocean).

A.R.P. MEASURES IN CANTON

Bamboo busters erected on the roofs of buildings are among the many effective precautions introduced in Canton against Japanese air raids. The bamboo busters, like those seen in the picture above, prevent the bomb from going through the building.

Another Bomb Explosion In Shanghai

Hankow, July 31. Confusion prevailed in Nanking Road near the Bund in Shanghai at the busy noon hour yesterday when a bomb exploded at the back of the Palace Hotel.
Pedestrians ran for cover. There were no casualties.
The bomb-thrower made good his escape.—(Central News).

GIANT LINER COLLIDES WITH JETTY

Queen Mary Caught By Strong Wind

London, July 31. While the liner Queen Mary was berthing at Southampton yesterday afternoon, attended by ten tugs, a strong wind caught the ship and caused it to collide with a wooden jetty at the entrance of the dock.

The jetty was almost cut in two. Tugs managed to stop the liner, which was safely berthed with no damage, as far as it can be ascertained.—(Reuter).

Squadron Leader Horry, who is appointed for flying duties, entered the R.F.C. from Framlingham College in 1916, and gained the D.F.C. in France with No. 92 Squadron in 1918. The A.F.C. was awarded him in 1928 while he was with No. 70 (Bomber) Squadron in Iraq, where he also gained the General Service Medal with two clasps for active service in Kurdistan and the Southern Desert.

Flight Lieutenant Rutter graduated as a pilot officer from Cranwell in July, 1931, and served with bomber squadrons in India up to 1935, after which he specialized in engineering.

LORD NUFFIELD'S AIR FACTORY

Production In Six Months

So rapidly is everything being pushed forward in connection with Lord Nuffield's £3,000,000 aero factory at Castle Bromwich that it is thought it will be available for production of Spitfire fighters in six months, says the Observer.

It was towards the end of May that Lord Nuffield placed his services at the disposal of Sir Kingsley Wood for the special purpose of accelerating aircraft production.

Within a few hours of the two men meeting Lord Nuffield had communicated with the Birmingham Corporation asking that he might acquire the site, which is in every way ideal for his purpose.

The City Council, although hard pressed for room for their housing schemes, at once consented.

The factory will be close to Lord Nuffield's works at Ward End, where there is a capable technical staff, and comparatively close by are the Wolseley Works of the Morris Company, where men highly experienced in aircraft construction are to be found.

These men were transferred there by Lord Nuffield when he closed his aero factory.

IMPORTANT DECISIONS AFFECTING EMOLUMENTS OF OFFICERS OF R.N.

Inter-Departmental Discussions

London, July 29.

The Admiralty announces that as a result of inter-Departmental discussions, in which all three fighting forces participated, important decisions affecting emoluments and conditions of service for officers of the Royal Navy have been made.

Among the benefits accruing to officers as a result of the decisions will be provision for those temporarily unemployed through no fault of their own. They will receive full pay, and if captain's rank or below will also receive a provision and marriage allowance where applicable.

In future, Flag Officers, if their further employment is uncertain, will receive six months' full pay and six months on two-thirds' pay, after which they will go on to half-pay.

Senior officers will be retired when it is certain that no further employment can be found for them.

The Admiralty has decided to terminate the practice under which Rear-Admirals and Vice-Admirals get step rank, and although unemployed in their new rank, qualify for retired pay at the rate appropriate to the higher rank.

The result will be that the new retired pay scales for Flag officers will be identical with those for general and officers, the rates being £960 per annum for a Rear-Admiral, £1,120 for a Vice-Admiral, £1,300 for an Admiral.

The new rules, however, will not become fully effective for executive officers with flag rank until the officers have been promoted to captaincies and reach flag rank. —(Reuter).

NEW ARMY APPOINTMENT

London, July 29.

In consequence of the expansion of the anti-aircraft divisions of the Territorial Army, Major-General J. H. Marshall-Cornwall, Chief of the British Military Mission to Egypt, has been appointed Deputy Chief of the Imperial General Staff (A.A. Defence), with the rank of Lieutenant-General. Major-General Marshall-Cornwall served in the Shanghai Defence Corps in 1927. —(Reuter).

ROYAL AIR FORCE PAY AND PROMOTION

London, July 29.

As a sequel to the statement in the House of Commons yesterday by the Secretary for War, Mr. L. Hore-Belisha, the Under-Secretary for Air, Mr. William Belfour, has announced improvement in the scales of pay for Squadron Leaders, Wing Commanders and Air Commodores.

In the two latter ranks, command pay will be withdrawn, and the allowance granted to Station Commanders in aid of official entertainment expenses will be extended.

In future, promotion of flying officers in the General Duties branch to Flight Lieutenants after two years' service in the rank will be the standard practice.

Officers unemployed during intervals between appointments will in future receive full pay and allowances, except Vice-Air Marshals and higher ranks, who will not receive allowances.

The normal maximum age for retirement of Air Chief Marshals and Air Marshals will be reduced from 65 to 60 years, but Wing Commanders and Squadron Leaders will be raised from 48 and 45 years to 50 and 48 years respectively.

Retired pay for Vice-Air Marshals and Air Marshals will be im-

MEMORIAL TO A CLOWN

A memorial tablet to Joseph Grimaldi, one of the greatest clowns of the nineteenth century, was fixed outside his former home at 22, Calshot-street, Pentonville, N., recently.

The house, formerly 33, Southampton-street was renumbered 22 in 1889, and the street was re-named Calshot-street this year.

Grimaldi made his debut at Sadler's Wells at the age of two years and four months by playing the monkey to one of his father's clowns.

His fame was at its height in 1806, and died in 1837 after spending his latter years a helpless cripple in the Pentonville house.

THE WEEK IN MACAO

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Macao, July 31.

As a means to getting local residents more "tap-minded," the Macao Waterworks Company last week inaugurated its tri-weekly (Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays) "Visitors' Day" at the up-to-date Green Island pumping station. Among those who took the opportunity to see how water is "made" was H.E. the Governor of Macao, Dr. Artur Taminhni de Sousa Barbosa.

TENEMENTS

Resulting from the efforts of the directors of the Santa Casa de Misericordia, a number of new houses are to be added to the tenements at Bairro Taminhni Barbosa. Macao's "poor" confire, where already some 4,500 persons are housed. The proposed addition will also include a medical clinic and a free-water fountain for the dwellers there.

RICKSHAS

Augmenting the fleet, already in service in local streets, a further batch of new pneumatic-tired rickshas were imported into the Colony by the Macao Trading Company during the week-end. Since early this month, a large number of these vehicles have been made available to the Macao public.

DEPARTURES

Leaving for Portugal in a few days are Mr. Humberto Rodrigues and Mr. Fernando Rodrigues, Jr., sons of Mr. Fernando Rodrigues, well-known Macao businessman. They will take up engineering studies while there.

CHOLERA

The number of cholera cases reported in this Colony registered a still lower figure during last week. Proof that this epidemic has abated considerably since the previous week may be found in the fact that only a single case was reported on Tuesday.

STAMPS

As from tomorrow, August 1, new stamps for "pre-paid correspondence, by ordinary or air-mail, will be issued by the Macao Post Office.

U.S. BOUND

Mr. Humberto Borges, son of Mr. R. G. B. Borges, of the Macao Public Works, is already saying good-bye to his many friends prior to his leaving for the United States shortly. He is taking up aviation work in Oklahoma.

Kiangsi Strongly Behind National Government

Nanchang.

The appropriation of $5,000,000 by the Kiangsi Provincial Government for administrative reforms is another indication of how that once bandit-ridden Central China Province is fully backing China's campaign against Japan.

The new project provides for sweeping changes in the organization, personnel and work of every administrative area in the province so that a maximum amount of self-government will be assured in every locality. This reform, the provincial authorities believe, will remove all handicaps and, simultaneously, will encourage the masses to give greater aid to the nation.

Meanwhile everything connected with regional or national defence and the promotion of productivity will receive the primary and unsparingly attention of all local government organs which will be manned only by public servants of unimpeachable character and high efficiency.

Politically, Kiangsi, with a population of 15,000,000, is divided into eight special administrative districts—equivalent to counties in the United Kingdom and in America—each headed by a director appointed by the Governor and approved by the Executive Yuan, the highest administrative organ in the nation.

RULED BY MAGISTRATE

He usually governs from eight to fifteen districts each of which is in turn ruled by a magistrate, assisted by a staff and three or four sections. These sections, according to the new order, have been abolished so that a more centralized machinery may be mobilized any time to deal with emergency issues.

AGE-OLD SYSTEM

In Kiangsi, there are 83 districts in which are 2,378 towns and villages. Still beneath these tiny political units are the families which form the age-old Chinese system of mutual guarantee known as Pao-Chia. The reform, which applies even to the lowest constituents of the province, retains the Pao-Chia system, composed of ten and one hundred families respectively, but abolishes the Lien Pao which was formed by a combination of from ten to twelve Pao or 100 to 120 Chia. The abolishing of the Lien Pao System will lead to the elimination of unnecessary waste and duplication in the political organization of Kiangsi, since the towns and villages usually embrace the influence formerly possessed by the Lien Pao.

WELL-TRAINED LEADER

Every town and every village is headed by a well-trained man who may not necessarily be a native of that particular district, in which he is appointed to serve, as was hitherto required. At present, the Provincial Government is spending $1,000,000 out of the $5,000,000 appropriation for the training of 1,200 specially selected youths who, upon their graduation in a three months time, will be well equipped to assume these humble yet important public posts.

Best Way To Learn English

The best way for a foreigner to learn English is to make friends with an English girl.

This is the opinion of a young Dutchman writing of his experiences in England in the German paper Anfriff Am Abend.

"English girls are very nice," he declares. "I have been out with them a lot and talked with them a lot, and I came to the conclusion that this was the best way to learn English."

"With a pretty girl one learns more than with ten teachers." He finds London's theatres and cinemas dear. "The same can be said for travelling, and the restaurants are not cheap either," he continues. "For a day's amusement in London, one must pay nearly double what one would pay in Berlin or Amsterdam."

The writer shows interest in the English "coming-out" dance for young girls. He compares the custom with the German and Dutch.

"The object of the dances is to introduce the young ladies into society, or in other words, the daughters have reached the marriageable age and must now be married off."

"In Berlin and Amsterdam most mothers leave this task to the daughters themselves."

BRITAIN'S CLAIMS ON THE JAPANESE*Draws Criticism From The Tokyo Press

Britain has made 150 claims on Japan in the course of Anglo-Japanese conversations this week, according to the "Asahi Shimbun."

The Japanese Foreign Minister, General Ugaki, the paper adds, told the Cabinet on Friday that these conversations dealt with Britain's rights and interests in Chinese territory now occupied by Japanese troops and particularly with the questions of shipping on the Yangtze, and British-owned railways.

JAPANESE SHIP SUNK

Hankow, July 30.
Chinese aircraft wrought havoc on a concentration of more than 30 Japanese warships in the Yangtze River between Hukow and Ma-tang yesterday morning, sinking one and severely damaging nine.

Zooming over the enemy vessels, the Chinese machines poured tons of lead on them. One of them was seen to capsize under the terrific concussion of the explosions. The Japanese marines aboard dived into the river to escape but many were drowned in the yellow muddy currents.

Nine other warships were heavily damaged. Some of them suffered direct hits. The rest immediately steamed downstream to avoid meeting the same fate.

A squadron of Japanese pursuit planes later arrived and challenged the Chinese planes. They were, however, out-manoeuvred after a combat lasting about ten minutes and fled in an easterly direction.

All through the raid anti-aircraft guns on the Japanese vessels fired heavily but ineffectively at the raiders.

The triumphant Chinese planes returned safely to their base. (Central News).

MORE CHINESE
SUCCESSSES*Severe Fighting
Near Kiukiang

Nanchang, July 30.
Intense fighting is raging on the Yangtze River front extending from Kiukiang to Pengtse with heavy casualties on both sides.

The Chinese counter-offensive is greatly menacing the Japanese rear at Hukow and Pengtse. In a series of fierce onslaughts they have decimated the Japanese units at Shihpoeheng, Fachungshan, Mellankow and Laotashan, and recaptured these points. Japanese reinforcements are being rushed from Kiukiang to Hukow and Pengtse.

FOUR HUNDRED KILLED

A large fleet of Japanese trucks loaded with 1,000 troops which was being rushed to Laotashan shortly after its re-occupation by the Chinese was attacked by the latter yesterday afternoon. The Chinese lay in ambush on both sides of the road. Upon the approach of the trucks they directed intense machine-gun fire on them. Four hundred Japanese were slain and ten were captured alive. Five of the trucks, 15 machine-guns, and over 100 rifles were also seized by the Chinese.

Heavy casualties have been also inflicted on the Japanese in the engagements along the range of hills south of Kiukiang, including Looshsan, Szeztshan and Changchishan during the last two days. Szeztshan was the scene of the severest fighting yesterday. Under a terrific artillery bombardment 500 Japanese broke through the Chinese line there but the Chinese recaptured it in a determined counter-attack. (Central News).

JAPANESE WITHDRAWING

Hankow, July 30.
Large contingents of Japanese troops are reported to be withdrawing from Shantung by the Kiao-Tsi Railway presumably to be sent to Manchuria. Only skeleton forces are garrisoning the important towns on the railway.

Practically all wagons on the line have been commandeered for troop transport, and strict precautions are taken by the Japanese at the railway stations at Tsingtao and other points upon their withdrawal.

They have recently imposed strict restrictions on foreigners travelling by the railway lest they should spy upon their troop movements. (Central News).

In the first conversation, General Ugaki explained to Sir Robert Craigie, the Japanese attitude to these questions and stated that British claims could be discussed from the point of view of Japan's recognition of the rights of Powers in China, but that the strategic situation imposed certain restrictions which must be taken into consideration and that the British Government must appreciate Japan's position in China.

WARNING TO JAPAN

General Ugaki expressed regret that such hostile remarks had been made against Japan in the British Parliament and added that the British Government's answers to Parliamentary questions were obviously intended as a warning to Japan.

General Ugaki told the Cabinet that he did not intend to lodge a formal protest with the British Government, but that he would interview Sir Robert Craigie in order that Japan's position should be understood in Britain.

BRITAIN CRITICIZED

The "Hochi Shimbun" strongly criticizes Britain's attitude towards Japan, saying that it is unreasonable of Britain to demand that the status quo be immediately restored in occupied territory with regard to British interests and rights.

The question of Japanese rights and interests in China is "a question of life and death to Japan while it is only an economic consideration for Britain."

Japan, the paper goes on to say, is determined to reach her goal, for which she will sweep aside all obstacles. Britain fears that if Hankow falls, British rights and interests in China would be endangered and therefore wishes to make Japanese operations more difficult. It also seems that Britain regards Japan's careful handling of the Changkiang Incident on Soviet Russian-Manchurian frontier as an indication of weakness in Japanese diplomacy. (Transocean).

MORE JAPANESE
PROTESTS*This Time With The French

Peiping, July 31.
The Japanese Consul-General in Tientsin, Mr. Tashiro, protested on Saturday to the authorities of the French Concession that up till now the French authorities had refused to hand over the 16 Chinese who were accused of printing banknotes illegally at a printing works in the French Concession.

Mr. Tashiro also stated in his protest that the arrest of the Chinese and confiscation of the printing presses by the French authorities was not enough to guarantee peace and order in the future. (Transocean).

JAPANESE ADVANCE SLOWLY

Tokyo, July 30.
The Chinese reports about a further slow advance of the Japanese in the Kiukiang sector on Thursday are confirmed by the messages received here stating that both the land and river forces of the Japanese had gained territory in the direction of Hankow. The Japanese operations are converging on the Tapies mountains. Both forces that have penetrated the Hupeh as well as those parts of the army gathered around Susung are said to be about to begin to advance. Japanese airmen attacked Changchuchen west of Nanchang and successfully bombed the airport there.

Further reports declare that the Chinese Government has already warned the civilian population to evacuate Hankow in view of the Japanese advance. The Chinese losses at Kiukiang are estimated by the Japanese at 20,000 including "several thousands" dead. Among the captured war material are four ten centimetre guns, four field guns, five mountain guns, 22 munitions wagons, 16 heavy machine guns, 500 grenades and very much other material. (Transocean).

SITUATION IN PALESTINE*Mr. MacDonald Makes Statement

London, July 30.
The British Colonial Minister, Mr. Malcolm MacDonald addressing the House of Commons yesterday about the situation in Palestine, stated that although unrest continued, the extent at the present moment could not be clearly ascertained.

The Minister, however, emphasized that the source of unrest was outside of Palestine for, as it was generally known, bands of armed Arabs crossed the frontiers of Palestine.

Regarding the further development Mr. MacDonald said that he did not know at present whether when the House re-assembled on November 1, the Government would be in a position to make a statement on the future policy.

JEWISH VOLUNTEERS

No assurance about the matter could be given until the partition commission now in Palestine had finished its labours. Answering the question put by Mr. George Mander, as to whether the Government had considered the formation of a Jewish volunteers corps in order to provide for the defence of those Jewish parts of Palestine to be included in the new Jewish state of Palestine to be included in statement, the Minister answered that he considered the formation of such volunteers corps, neither possible nor necessary.

Concerning the role of Jews in the Palestine policy, the Minister declared that at present 750 Jews were serving in the regular police, 3,040 were acting as special Jewish police and a further reserve of 2,000 men were ready for an action at any moment should the emergency arise. (Transocean).

MR. NEWTON CALLED TO LONDON

London, July 30.
In connection with the mission of Lord Runciman to Prague the British Minister in Prague, Mr. Newton, has been called to London where he is expected to arrive today and to have deliberations with the Prime Minister, Mr. Chamberlain, the Foreign Minister Lord Halifax and Lord Runciman over the week-end.

It is, however, not expected that Mr. Newton will accompany Lord Runciman to Prague. Lord Runciman and his wife are scheduled to leave on Tuesday and will travel to Prague via Paris, Strassburg and Nuremberg.

Lord Runciman's staff which includes of an official from the British Foreign Office will leave for Prague by air at the beginning of next week. (Transocean).

NON-INTERVENTION IN SPAIN

London, July 30.
A statement about the answers received from both Spanish Governments concerning the British plan for a withdrawal from Spain of the foreign volunteers was made in the House of Commons yesterday by the Under Secretary of State, Mr. Butler, who said that the answer of the Republican Spanish Government contained a number of objections but the British Government regarded the prompt answer from Barcelona as acceptance of the Non-Intervention plan as a whole.

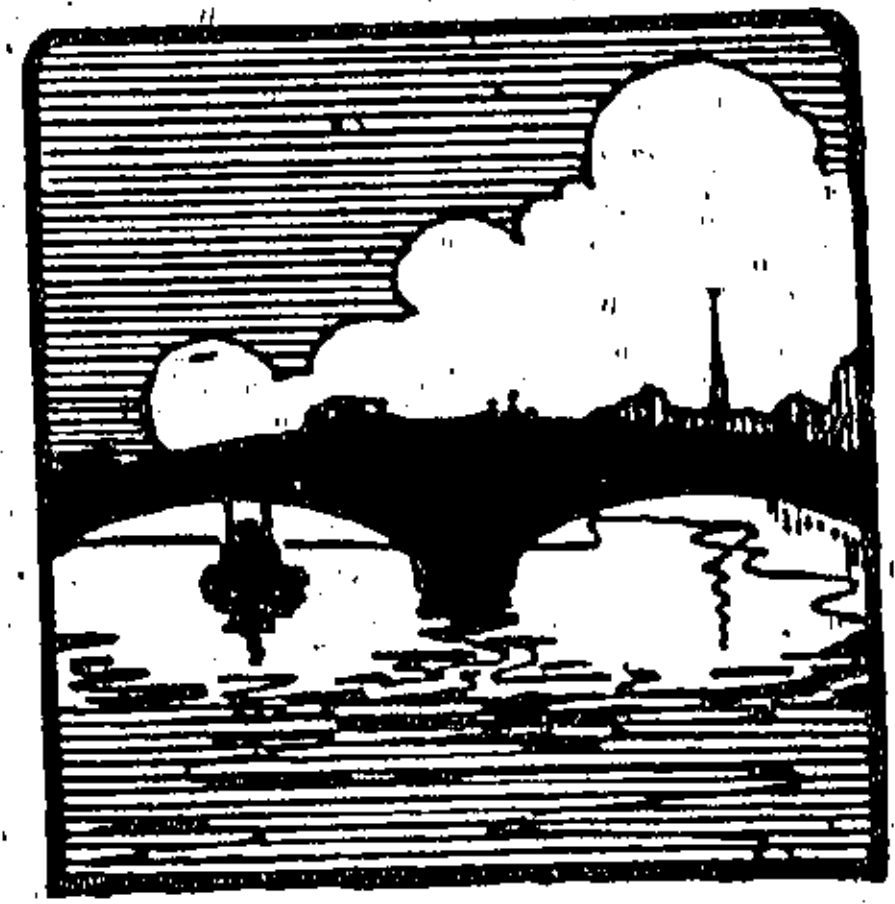

As far as he knew Burgos was still examining the plan and intended to give a reply as soon as possible. (Transocean).

HOPEI GOVERNOR TO LEAD BATTLE

Hankow, July 30.
In a wire to the National Government General Lu Chung-lin, new Chairman of the Hopei Provincial Government, reported that he had assumed office and would soon lead the troops and people in Hopei to fight against the Japanese and recover the lost territory. (Central News).

"DUM DUMS" USED

Kiangsi, July 30.
Dum-dum bullets are alleged to have been used by the Japanese at the Kiukiang front. Wounds sustained by many Chinese soldiers were found by the doctors in the fields hospital here to suffer from effects of this deadly weapon. (Central News).

LORD RUNCIMAN'S VISIT TO PRAGUE*Conversations With Two Parties

Prague, July 31.
Lord Runciman's arrival in Prague is now definitely scheduled for August 3.

First of all, it is stated here, the text of the three Laws and Memorandum of the Sudeten-German party, translated into English, will be laid before him and after he has had the opportunity to acquaint himself with the contents of these documents he will ask the Czechoslovakian Government to furnish information about the points that need elucidation.

Lord Runciman will also go into conversation with the Sudeten-German Party.

The Czechoslovakian Government will restrict itself to commenting on the drafts and making known its opinion about the Memorandum of the Sudeten-German party.

On the other hand the Sudeten-German Party is to comment on its own Memorandum and take up its position towards the motions of the Governments. It is expected that Lord Runciman will make a proposal about further procedure. Until then, it is stated here that no programme about future developments can be drawn up because it is precisely on this point that the advice and mediation of a British Adviser is sought. (Transocean).

SUDETEN QUESTIONS

Prague, July 31.
In view of the uncertainty regarding the Government's proposals, Herr Kundt, leader of the Sudeten German group in Parliament, inquired yesterday whether the Government still stood by the proposals and whether it intended to continue conversations with the Sudetens or consider that Lord Runciman's mission superseded such plans.

Herr Kundt asked for a reply by August 2, when the Sudeten leaders will hold a plenary meeting. It is learned that Dr. Hozda, the Premier, will reply tomorrow to the effect that the Government stands by the proposals and that Lord Runciman's arrival will not alter the situation in any respect.

TO BEGIN TALKS

The leaders of the Government coalition parties will meet tomorrow to approve of the Government's draft measures before Parliament meets on Tuesday formally to refer the bills to the Committee.

On Wednesday, negotiations between the Government and Sudeten leaders will begin and Lord Runciman will arrive in Prague.

According to the present plan, Lord Runciman's good offices will not be resorted to until difficulties arise. Meanwhile, two prominent Czech papers have published articles disparaging Britain and declaring that Czech and Russian interests are practically identical. (Reuter).

STREET FIGHTING IN HWEIHSIEN

Chengchow, July 30.
Severe street fighting is taking place at Hweihsien, 50 miles north of Chengchow in north Honan. The Chinese have occupied the east, west and south parts of the city and are cornering the Japanese in the north part. Besides inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy the Chinese have captured 30 Japanese alive, and seized 20 machine-guns and 50 rifles. (Central News).

PRAGUE VISIT

London, July 29.
Lord Runciman departs for Prague on August 2. He will be accompanied by Lady Runciman and Mr. Geoffrey Peto, Conservative Member of Parliament.

The party will be preceded by Lord Runciman's private secretary, Mr. R. J. Stopford, Mr. F. T. A. Ashton, and Mr. G. Watkin. Mr. Watkin has been seconded from the Foreign Office at Lord Runciman's request for the duration of the Mission, but will have no communications with the Foreign Office during the Mission.

Mr. Stopford was private secretary to Sir John Simon when the latter was Chairman of the Indian Statutory Committee. (Reuter).

INCIDENTS IN PALESTINE

Jerusalem, July 30.
According to a report here from Haifa two Arabs were killed during a shooting affray between Arab Nationalists and police in the Jewish settlement of Ramat-Yahnan near Haifa yesterday.

A report from Beirut, Syria, states that a general strike was proclaimed in that city as a protest against the latest outrages in Palestine. The report adds that the situation in Beirut is extremely strained. The inhabitants of the city are afraid to leave their homes and prefer to stay indoors behind closed doors and windows in spite of the extreme heat which prevails in the city at the present time.

A message from Damascus states that the Syrian Premier Mardam Bey announced at a Mardam mass meeting in that city yesterday that he would shortly leave for Paris in order to warn the French authorities that the Syrian people is firmly determined to secure their independence. (Transocean).

ROYAL AIR FORCE APPOINTMENT

London, July 30.
Air Vice-Marshal H. M. Cave-Browne-Cave, who commanded the R.A.F. flight to Singapore, Australia and Hong Kong in 1921 and was Officer Commanding the R.A.F. in the Far East in 1939, has been appointed Air Officer Commanding No. 25 Armament Group, R.A.F., effective as from August 17. (Reuter).

JAPANESE SUFFER
500 CASUALTIES

Shao-shan, July 30.
Five hundred casualties were suffered by the Japanese at Yang-wangien, a hill in Tehching about 50 kilometres north of Hangchow when they were surrounded and attacked by the Chinese on July 21, according to a belated report. The Chinese casualties included two company commanders and 27 soldiers. (Central News).

Shan, July 31.

Five hundred Mongol troops in Suifu and under the command of Colonel Ma Shih, are reported to have revolted against the Japanese and surrendered to the Chinese side.

Chinese government authorities in Suifu have instructed them to co-operate with the troops to harass the Japanese.

Suspecting them of subversive activities, the Japanese military authorities have transferred the "Manchukuo" irregulars from Kwang and Pei to Chian on the pretext of reorganization and training. (Central News).

Hello & Goodbye

—BY A. W. HYER—

Well, here it is Monday morning and another holiday again. Maybe we had better look at the date and make sure—it might be another one of those days that just seem like Monday and a holiday. Yes, it's Monday all right, or a reasonable facsimile.

Now, if we can get all the "lowdown" on the journeyers in coherent print and reading "right pretty," we might get a half holiday, too.

And here goes the Blasts!

Empress of Asia

STOPPING IN FROM Vancouver and waypoints was the Empress of Asia, Thursday, 8.45 a.m. There was plenty of a crowd down to say "Hello." The police line at the pier certainly improved the knock down, drag out scramble which usually takes place the first five minutes after the lowering of the gangway.

Dashing up the gangway were many Chinese lads and lassies down to welcome the petite and charming Miss P. Mah of Shanghai.

After a month's visit with her mother and friends in the Colony, Miss Mah will return to the North-east city.

We hope your stay will be pleasant.

The distinguished gentleman, iron grey at the temples, is Mr. W. D. Murray. An executive of the Chinese Post Office in Shanghai, he has his trials and tribulations. The length of his business call to Hong Kong is indefinite, though he hopes soon to return to his family in the North.

Mr. Murray, who was most cordial, expressed regret at his inability to supply us with definite information regarding his visit here. He did state, however, that the Japanese are securing a firmer hold in the North each day, and particularly Shanghai, in her civic and economic affairs.

Mr. L. B. Stiles is with us again and, of course, everyone knows this busy person who takes care of affairs for T. Eaton and Company of Canada, in the Far East.

His call will be short as he returns to the North, and eventually Toronto, on the Empress of Asia, leaving this week.

Lots of luck and pleasant days. Almost two foot two, but with big black eyes, black curly hair and a delightful accent, we discovered

Miss H. M. Depler.

Attired in a blue cotton, wearing a sassy navy pill box, straw and red kid sandals, this French Miss can certainly tell you what a swiftest voyage a person can have travelling from Vancouver via the Empress of Asia.

A short stop over in the Colony and away to Saigon Miss Depler sails, for she is very anxious to be home. Happy landings.

The Asiatic Petroleum Company's Mr. L. B. Gammell is back in town. Sorry we missed you on the Empress, Thursday a.m. But we send our "bestest hello,"—hope your trip was a good one.

Another high muckamuck arriving via Canadian Pacific's steamer was Captain A. Alves-Lico, Portugal's Vice-Consul in Shanghai. And he was in a big rush for his home hearth when he went a flying to Europe via Imperial Airways, Friday a.m.

So! The Empress of Asia completed her 139 voyage West. Manila Bound 6.30 p.m.

A DRIPPY ADIOS was bid to Mrs. Selwyn-Clarke and Mistress Mary when they left for a month of vacationing in Manila via Empress of Asia.

Attired in a tailored white suit and wearing a large blue and white brimmed hat which complimented her blond hair, the capable Mrs. Selwyn-Clarke gave interviews, greeted friends and exchanged goodbyes.

After a strenuous inspection trip in the Northern Interior of China, she was looking forward to a rest and holiday with her small daughter.

Miss Mary Selwyn-Clarke, so high, just looked with large round blue eyes. "Some boat," she appeared to be thinking. "All this is very strange." But her tongue was tied, no interview from this Miss.

We wish you, Happy Holiday, hurry back!

"I have been waiting for you, knew you would be along—hello," was Captain S. H. Batty-Smith's greeting as we pounced on him before he left on the Empress of Asia for Manila.

The Captain, who everyone knows and enjoys, is taking a holiday from his confining duties as A.D.C. to His Excellency Sir Geoffrey Northcote.

"There is no telephone line from the Colony to Manila," he said, with a twinkle in his eye. On this first call at Manila, he intends to devote his two weeks to relaxation and pleasure.

Adios, we will be seeing you anon! S. S. Heikson

HE DOES NOT WANT TO PLAY with ships any more, it will be rubber—All right for you, Mr. Henry Chow.

Saturday p.m. away for Saigon he sailed, leaving the Dollar Steamship Company, his friends and the Colony for an indefinite period.

Best of luck, hope the rubber plantation has plenty of snap—Good-a-bye. Haruna Maru

FRIDAY, 5.30 P.M. N.Y.K.'s Haruna Maru skidded from her buoy for Shanghai and Japan.

Winding up a successful three weeks' business visit in the Colony, Mr. A. Fleischman of Fleischman-Burd and Company, sailed for Kobe.

A short call to his offices in said city, then on to Canada and across to embark for London, his home port.

Mr. Fleischman's interest is mining, and reports his business on the "up and up."

We will no doubt see him in a few months time as he is a perpetual ticket buyer for the Far East.

Mr. K. Maejima, another caller on N.Y.K.'s clean and compact little vessel, Shanghai will see him for several weeks before his return to the home station in Japan.

This interesting traveller is a very busy person, and who wouldn't be—taking care of all the advertising for that comprehensive and interesting yearly book "Glimpses of The Far East."

President Pierce

ISN'T IT ABOUT TIME to burst into song with "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More!"

Captain Thomas, Dollar Line's very nice port Captain attempted to help us keep dry. Friday, 7.15 a.m., when the fat and heavily loaded President Pierce parked herself at the wharf. And how it did rain, our feet are still wet.

Mrs. A. C. Fauntz and her young daughter were given "happy hellos" on their arrival from the States.

Lieutenant Fauntz, U.S.N., is the new Supply Officer of the South Asiatic Patrol. He and his family will be a new and indeed welcome addition to the Colony's going-ons.

—Hello!

The President Pierce heads for home, San Francisco, today midnight, with few passengers but very heavy cargo, 2500 pounds. That's something.

Air France

DUE TO VERY poor weather the test flight from Hanoi to Kail Tak of Air France did not take place.

They will come in this Wednesday, and on August 10th inaugurate this branch of the line.

Eurasia Aviation Corporation

THE SATURDAY 5.20 p.m. Eurasia plane delivered, four Mary-Knoll Sisters down from Wuchang.

U.S. AMBASSADOR LEAVES HANKOW

Hankow, July 31.

Mr. Nelson T. Johnson, American Ambassador to China, is leaving here aboard the U.S.S. Luzon for Chungking, seat of the National Government, on Tuesday, it is learned from authoritative circles. (Central News).

CHINA'S FINANCES

HONG KONG, JULY 31.

WARS have always been costly and the current hostilities provide no exception, the strain on China's resources although far less than on those of Japan, being intense.

In view of this it is most reassuring to learn from a recent statement by Dr. H. H. Kung, President of the Executive Yuan and currently Minister of Finance, that China's financial condition taking into consideration the demands made by the war and the attendant problems and difficulties, is stable.

The confidence of the people in their banking institutions, which in turn reflects the soundness of the nation's financial structure, can be gauged from the fact that there has been an increase in bank deposits in practically all the areas not affected by the hostilities.

Even in "normal times this would be most gratifying to the authorities as an indication of the stability and prosperity of the country but in the present circumstances it is all the more so, considering that there has been no rise in the bank interest rate and that, on the other hand, many banks as early as July, ceased paying interest on all current deposits.

THAT the people's confidence is justified is borne out by the knowledge that since the war broke out there has not been a single bank failure.

Many Chinese banks, removed from areas occupied by Japanese troops, are now carrying on business elsewhere. In Shanghai, after the fall of this city, a few native banks closed their doors because of poor business but only after their depositors had been fully paid.

An indication of the healthiness of China's currency system is that while the volume of the note issue has been somewhat increased in the past year there still exists a shortage.

In the occupied cities of Peking and Tientsin, despite all sabotage and intrigues of the Japanese, the amount of Chinese legal tender notes has been increased by between $70,000,000 and $80,000,000 since last autumn.

Chinese in North China not only prefer these notes but hoard them and throughout these months their value has been higher than that of notes issued by the puppet regimes.

REPORTS from various provinces state that local banks have issued less than half of the subsidiary notes they were authorised to issue and as a result there has been a keen demand for subsidiary notes of coins circulated by the Central Bank and the Central Mint.

This goes to show that the people have an unflinching confidence in the Central Government and from the point of view of national economy it proves the strength and extent of the new spirit of national unity.

In conformity with the Government's policy of putting more money into circulation instead of keeping it in bank vaults, branches of the "Big Four"—the Central Bank of China, the Bank of China, the Bank of Communications and the Farmers' Bank of China—in many places have taken on another function, that of discount and national unity.

So far the amount of money thus lent to individual merchants, business firms and local banks totals roughly a little over $50,000,000, most of the loans being secured on farm products with the rest on factory goods and government bonds.

REFERRING to the improvement in the nation's rural economy, Dr. Kung emphasised that the Government liked to see farm products appreciate in price so that the farmers would be financially better off.

In this regard mention must be made of the important part being played by the co-operative societies which total more than 30,000 with about one-third of them in the province of Kiangsi.

From this review it would almost seem that China was engaged in her normal peace time occupations instead of passing through one of the most perilous periods of her existence, with one-third of her population victims of Japanese aggression.

So, with the state of affairs such as it is, it can be readily seen what a period of great prosperity faces China when finally she demonstrates to Japan that the people of China, and they alone, will decide as to how their country shall develop.

DR. WANG LEAVES FOR NEW CAPITAL

Removal To Szechuan

Hankow, July 30.

The Chinese Foreign Minister, Dr. Wang Chung-hui left Hankow on Friday for Chungking, the new capital in Szechuan Province. The transfer of other Ministries and non-military branches of the Administration has been arranged to take place not later than August 3.

The military authorities will remain at Hankow. Foreign diplomatic missions are planning to remove their offices to Szechuan before the middle of August.

The French steamer, "Fukien," which will be used for transport has already arrived at Hankow where the evacuation of civilian population is being speeded up following the capture of Kiu-kiang by the Japanese although no feeling of panic prevails.

REFUGEE TRAIN Another international train will leave for Hong Kong on July 31st, one of the last opportunities for foreigners to leave Hankow in a southern direction.

Following the example of the French Settlement, the former British and former Russian Settlements are in the meantime barricading all approaches and protecting the boundaries with barbed wire entanglements. Plans are being made to include the former German Settlement in the special zone which includes the British and Russian Settlements.

SPECIAL ZONE The Chinese and Japanese authorities have been requested to recognize these three former foreign Settlements as a special zone which is to be extended to the Peiping-Hankow Railway in order to establish refugee camps.

Moreover, the foreign colony with exemplary co-operation of all nationalities is organizing a foreign auxiliary police, an auxiliary fire brigade and a Com-

SUPPRESSION OF TRUTH

FOR some time now a certain section of the Japanese Government has been employed in an undertaking that is characteristic of the Nipponese—suppressing the truth. They seem to have made a fairly good job of it too, thanks to the fact that the peasants and the poorer classes are too dense to see for themselves the real state of affairs.

Thus one reads reports in the Japanese newspapers about 20,000 Chinese being killed in one day, another 30,000 on the following day and so on, so that if the figures were added together, at least half of China's 450,000,000 people must have, by this time, been killed in the present war. These same newspapers are scrupulously particular not to exaggerate the seriousness of the situation and as a result they actually give the death-roll on the Japanese side about once a week when anything from one to ten deaths may be reported.

SIMPLE PEOPLE essentially, these peasants express much gratification at such a favourable state of affairs. Thousands of soldiers have been sent to the front and only such a small percentage make the supreme sacrifice. Why then should not the people be satisfied? But are those newspaper figures correct even though they may have been released officially? We doubt it. In fact we are told on good authority that these figures are far from correct. It was stated that an idea of the number of Japanese killed in the present war may be gleaned from the very large number of women and children—widows and orphans—who may be seen throughout the country, in deep mourning. These people are informed by the Japanese War Office of the death of a husband, a father, a brother or a relative. But the Press is never allowed to reveal the true state of affairs for this may come as such a shock as to bring about a major crisis in the country.

THIS rigid suppression of the truth is not confined to the publication of the death roll alone. It applies to everything connected with the war so that if a letter addressed to anybody in Japan so much as mentions the fact that one Japanese plane was shot down in battle, that part is promptly deleted before the letter is forwarded to the addressee.

And so with wireless receiving sets. It is learned that all short wave sets in Japan have, for some time now, been forbidden and wireless fans must be satisfied with sets good enough for local reception only. The idea behind this precautionary measure is to make sure that no news may leak into the country from foreign stations regarding the sorry plight of the Japanese soldiers in the China front.

And so we have the Japanese leaders with their hands full, attending to two things at one time—the China Campaign and the Campaign for the Suppression of Truth in the Land of The Rising Sun!

PROCLAMATION

Issued by
THE TAX BUREAU
of the First Area under
THE KWANGTUNG
FINANCE DEPARTMENT

We have received instructions from the Kwangtung Finance Department to the following effect:—

"In accordance with records on file, a transit tax should be levied on all goods passing the locality. It is our understanding that goods are sometimes shipped to Hunan and Hankow direct from Kowloon by train. On passing through this province, a transit tax should be levied on such goods in accordance with regulations in order that a large amount of revenue may not dwindle. However, there may be considerable inconvenience felt by the merchants who are required to pay the transit tax in Canton, whereas these goods are shipped by trains at Kowloon. For the sake of convenience to the merchants, we have decided to establish an office at Shum-chun for the special purpose of collecting this tax, so that merchants can pay it at the spot. The rate of transit tax on all goods will be 60% of the Customs duty paid on such goods."

Pursuant to the above, it has been decided that effective as from the 15th JULY, 27th Year of the Chinese Republic, our office at Shumchun will begin to function.

In addition to notifying all concerned, this proclamation is issued with a view to its being noted by all Chinese and foreign merchants as well. Should they have goods forwarded to Hunan and Hankow by train from Kowloon hereafter, after paying the Customs duty, they are requested to send their men with funds together with the Customs papers to pay the transit tax to our office at Shumchun.

In order to ensure that there will be no delay, no objection to pay this tax shall be tolerated.

Director of the Tax Bureau

LUSHUI CAPE ALARM GROSSLY EXAGGERATED

ONLY SEVENTY SAILORS IN LANDING PARTYWHEREABOUTS OF AIRCRAFT
CARRIER UNKNOWN

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Canton, July 31.

The alarm created by the report on Friday that a Japanese landing party was sent to Lushui Cape in the southern point of Hainan Island has turned out to be grossly exaggerated as only about seventy bluejackets took part in the landing. It was revealed here last night.

The Japanese sailors went in pinnaces to the shore in the hope of securing fresh water and provisions, but a volley of machine gun bullets from the shore sent the ratings back to their two destroyers.

Yulin Harbour, west of Lushui Cape, Nintaochow, and Waiyang near Swatow were shelled by Japanese warships over the week end, but no damage was inflicted.

LEFT FOR FUKIEN

Except for several warships concentrated around Namao Island, more of the Japanese cruisers and destroyers have again left for the Fukien coast. The whereabouts of the Japanese seaplane carrier is unknown. Canton being free from air raids during the past four days. Owing to bad weather early this morning, no visit from naval bombers is expected.

One big cruiser and two destroyers anchored at Heungchow near Tongkawan yesterday, and last night they flashed their searchlights on the coast. The shore garrison has taken up their position in anticipation of landing parties or bombardment of the coast.

Fighting is still going on in Namao Island, the enemy assaults being supported by bombing and can hold out indefinitely.

He leaves a widow, five daughters and four sons to mourn his loss.

The funeral will leave his residence for the Catholic Cemetery at 2.30 p.m. today.

JAPANESE LEADERS
ARE WORRIEDBy Discussions On The War In Commons

Tokyo, July 30.

Great indignation has been caused here by this week's discussions on the Sino-Japanese War in the British House of Commons.

This indignation is voiced by the Spokesman of the Japanese Foreign Office, who declared that the whole Common's debates have manifested the desire to intimidate and humiliate the Japanese.

The Spokesman said the Japanese people took note with much displeasure of the fact that some of the orators in Commons even demanded the abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese Commercial Treaty of 1911, and the exclusion of all Japanese goods from the markets of the British Empire.

Proposals for financial assistance to China had also been made.

Outside observers, according to the Spokesman, could not avoid obtaining the impression that the various debaters in Commons were seeking to propagate the idea of violence against Japan.

WAR MUST COME FIRST

Regarding the speeches of the British Ministers, the Spokesman said that the terms in which they had been formulated, lacked clarity so that no opinion could be expressed on the subject without a careful study of their contents.

Referring to the conversations between a Japanese Foreign Minister and the British Ambassador to Tokyo, the Spokesman observed that Japan recognised all the legitimate interests of the Third Parties in China, but that for time being, the successful conduct of the war must come before all other considerations.

The entire Japanese Press approves the Spokesman's utterances. The "Hochi Shimbun" asserts in this connection that the Foreign Minister General Ugaki is resolved to cease his conversations with the British Ambassador if Britain should continue to support China against Japan. (Transocean.)

Shanghai, July 30.

A Japanese hospital ship was bombed by Chinese planes near Kiukiang on Thursday according to Japanese reports here which assert that the bombardment was obviously no accident but a deliberate attack since the bombed vessel flew Red Cross ensigns and was moreover painted in the colours of the Geneva convention.

London, July 31.

A census taken by the Post Office recently of telegraph traffic revealed roughly that two-thirds of telegrams dealt with were business, and one-third social messages.

It is stated that of social messages, almost four percent carried congratulatory and less than two percent conveyed bad news. (British Wireless.)

Hankow In Need Of
£20,000

London, July 29.

The British Ambassador's Committee of the Lord Mayor's Fund in Shanghai has cabled to Mansion House in London, stating that Hankow is urgently asking for £20,000 sterling in view of the projected formation of a large refugee safety zone.

The appeal adds: "This money is urgently needed."

The Committee of the Lord Mayor's Fund has immediately sent £5,000 and the Treasurer, Dr. Gordon Thompson, is sending a further £5,000. This, including the amounts spent on medical supplies, brings the amount sent to China to £120,000.

Calls on the Fund, says a statement issued in London, practically exhausts all available money and further help is greatly needed to save the terror-stricken people of Hankow.

The statement adds that only in a safety zone, controlled by British and other foreign interests can thousands of unhappy refugees, mostly women and children and old people who fled to Hankow from all parts of China's war areas, find any measure of security. (Reuters.)

HAWAII CLIPPER
STILL MISSINGBig Sum Of Money
Aboard For China

Manila, July 30.

An employee of the Philippine Telephone Company reported that he heard a plane flying in a westerly direction over Luzon Island three hours after the missing Hawaii Clipper last gave out its position.

This gave rise to hope that the plane had merely missed its course, but the later news damped all hopes.

Rumours prevailing in New York's Chinatown that the plane may possibly have been sabotaged are ridiculed by officials and ascribed to the fact that one of the passengers, Mr. Choy Wah-sun, of New York, a well-known restaurant proprietor, was taking a large sum of money to China.

The money was subscribed by Chinese merchants in the United States and was intended to swell China's war chest. (Reuters.)

BATTLE OF GANDESA IS GREAT SUCCESS FOR
THE REPUBLICANSRebels' Offensive Brought To A Standstill

Paris, July 31.

French war correspondents with the Spanish Republican armies unanimously describe the result of the battle of Gandesa as one of the greatest successes achieved by Republicans during the whole war. Success, or failure, depended on whether the Nationalist air force would be able a few hours after the first Republican attack, to destroy the pontoon bridges thrown over the Ebro by the Republicans.

Right from the outset the main occupation of the Republican high command was to assure the security of the pontoons essential for the transport of heavy material and in this the Republicans were successful.

According to Republican headquarters, the offensive not only resulted in the gain of ground but also, in compelling the Nationalists to bring their offensive on the Teruel-Castellon front to a standstill.

According to the French war correspondents, the town of Gandesa itself possesses no strategic importance but that the Republicans were anxious to recapture it for reasons of prestige. (Transocean.)

Nanking, July 31.

The pro-Japanese Reformed Government in this city will shortly undergo a change of personnel following the failure of Mr. Liang Hung-chih, the head of the government, to command the confidence of the Japanese military authorities.

Lieut.-General Kenji Doihara, who relinquished his command of the 14th Division to resume his political and intelligence activities, has recommended Mr. Chen Chung-fu to head the Nanking regime. Chen was many years in Japan and speaks fluent Japanese.

With the loss of his post as President of the Executive Yuan, Mr. Liang will become President of the Legislative Yuan, the present incumbent of which, Mr. Wan Tsung-yao, will be transferred to the Ministry of Justice.

General Doihara is now in Shanghai to secure the service of Chinese politicians and retired militarists for posts in the combined Nanking-Peking regime, but outstanding figures are lacking. (International).

Britain Wins
£500,000
Orders

British motor-cycle manufacturers are likely to gain £500,000 worth of business in foreign markets through their team winning the International Trophy in the Six Day's Motor-cycling Trial that ended recently.

Peter Bradley, director of the team—who stands 6ft. 4in., weighs 16st. 8lbs., and is aged thirty-four stated:—

"Buyers" throughout the world get machines from the country that wins the trophy, because the test is acknowledged to be the greatest possible.

"When we won two years ago our motor-cycle exports—including spare parts and tyres—went up by about £350,000. Now they total well over £1,000,000 a year."

THIRD SUCCESS

Britain has now won the trophy three years running, and it is unlikely that the International trial will be held in Britain next year.

The two minor trophies of the trial—the International silver vase and the Hühnelein Trophy—were won by Germany.

Herr Hühnelein, German motor sport chief, has ordered an inquiry into Germany's failure in the International Trophy contest. Only one of the four German riders finished the course.

NO SMALL BALL INTERPORT

It is learned from a reliable source that it is extremely doubtful whether the Small-ball Interport between Shanghai and Hong Kong will materialise, a number of difficulties having cropped up. Arrangements were almost completed last month for a team from Hong Kong to visit Shanghai and play a series of games against Chinese teams and several foreign teams with a view to raising funds for war relief purposes, but owing to several unfortunate circumstances it was decided to postpone the trip for the time being.

TEAM SELECTED
It will be recalled that the following were selected some time ago to represent the Colony in Shanghai: Cheung Moon-wing (South China "A"), Wong Kai-ming, Leung Pak Wai (South China "B"), Tse Kam Hung (South China "B"), Sung Ling Sing (Eastern) Capt. Lau Tin Sun (South China "A"), Wan Cheuk Sun, Lo Tau Man (a new star from Shanghai), Chu Kam Sing, Lau Chung Sang (South China "B").
Mr. Chu Chik Tze, of the Nani Wah Yat Po, was to have been Manager and Pau Tze Tuen Secretary.

TABLE TENNIS INTERPORT

The strong table tennis interport between Hong Kong and Macao will be played at the Confucius Club on August 14, when five of the Colony's best players will meet five from the Portuguese port.
The five Hong Kong players chosen are Chu Shiu-kau, Lee Tak-hung, Poon Sai-on, Poon Sai-tong and Chu Shiu-lun.
Macao will be represented by Chan Kwok-wai, Wong Wing-lin, Luk Lai-woo, Woo Kan-yin and Yeung Kan-chan.

In the first meeting of this nature two years ago Hong Kong were beaten but with a stronger side this year, victory is predicted.
Prior to the men's interport two women's side representing the two ports will meet on August 13.

SCOTLAND'S STRONG TEAM

Four New "Caps" To Play At Porthcawl

The Scottish Golf Union have, as usual, chosen a strong team to represent the country in the annual amateur international matches, which will be played at Porthcawl on September 21-23. Following are the 11 players, who will be captained, from the sidelines, by H. M. Dickson, last year's non-playing captain:—

D. Cameron, Kirkcaldyloch.
E. D. Hamilton, Balston.
A. T. Kyle, Sand Moor.
R. A. McKinnis, North Berwick.
New.
A. E. McLeod, Old Ranfurly.
W. S. McLeod, Old Ranfurly.
G. B. Peters, Ferness.
G. Roberts, Craigmillar Park.
R. Kutherford, Royal Wimbeldon.
J. B. Stevenson, Troon St. Meddan's.
H. Thomson, Williamwood.

Cameron, Kyle, McKinnis, and Kutherford are new "caps," while J. B. Stevenson has not played for Scotland since 1932 at Troon. At least seven of the players must have chosen themselves. Thomson, Peters, and Kyle, the heroes of the Walker Cup match, could not be omitted.

Hamilton and Kutherford were in a like category, and so, too, were A. E. McLeod and J. B. Stevenson, the former as a member of last year's team, who had won a bronze medal at Mullfield, and the latter for his brilliant play in the Amateur Championship at Troon.

Of the others, W. S. McLeod also did well at Troon; and he was, moreover, a Walker Cup finalist. Cameron's bronze medal at Mullfield was no more than his courageous and consistent golf over the last few years, deserved, and his "cap" is richly merited.

ONE MATCH EACH IN THE EUROPEAN ZONE FINAL

Germany And Yugoslavia In The Davis Cup

Berlin, July 30.
Germany and Yugoslavia broke even on the first day in the European zone final of the Davis Cup, each country winning one of the two singles played here yesterday afternoon.

In the first match the Yugoslavian number one man, Pancec, defeated the German player Henkel in three sets 6-1, 7-5, 6-3. The first set was won fairly easily by the Yugoslavian whose powerful drives have been proved too much for the German who apparently was not in his best form.

Henkel endeavored to reduce the pace by countering Pancec's hurricane drives with well-placed chops and by these methods secured a five to one lead in the second set. This time, however, the Yugoslavian had found an effective reply to Henkel's chops. He finally won the set at 7-5. Henkel put up a gallant resistance in the third set but the Yugoslavian was clearly the better man and won the one point for Yugoslavia.

The second match between von Metaxa, Germany, and Pallada, Yugoslavia, was an extremely thrilling affair although both players played mostly from the baseline. Pallada won the first set, Von Metaxa's play, however, improved in the second set which he won 6-4. In the third set the German player became more aggressive risking some excursions to the net whenever a chance was offered.

He also served extremely well, scoring a number of aces outright. By these methods he won the third in a relatively short time by scoring 6-1. In the fourth set Pallada made a supreme effort, winning many rallies by his steady driving and capturing the set 6-3. The fifth was an extremely long drawn-out affair with many long rallies. The German finally won 12-10 thus winning the first point for Germany. Since it is regarded as virtually certain that Germany's number one man Henkel will win his second singles match on Sunday, it will probably be the decisive match of the European zone final.—(Transocean).

GENERAL RECALL FROM "PROHIBITED ZONES"

Tightening Up The Laws In The Reich

Berlin, July 31.
A semi-official statement issued on Saturday announces that an official decree will be issued shortly forbidding all active members of foreign defence forces to make their homes in the so-called "prohibited zones."

This decree will stipulate that all persons belonging to the defence forces of any foreign country at present in any of the "prohibited zones" are to leave such areas forthwith and those failing to do so will expose themselves to the risk of punishment.

At the same time in another semi-official declaration attention is drawn to the Passport Law of 1887 which requires all subjects of the Reich and all foreigners to be in a position to establish their identity whenever they are called upon to do so.

PROHIBITED ZONES
These regulations, states the declaration, "apply particularly to persons who travel from any part of the Reich to the prohibited zones in the western part of the Reich."

"This prohibited zone includes the entire territory on the left bank of the Rhine, the State of Baden with the exception of a few districts in the neighbourhood of Lake Constance, several districts in Messen including Offenbach and Darmstadt, several districts in Bavaria, including Aschaffenburg, and finally a few Prussian districts on the right bank of the Rhine including Manau and the district of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen." (Transocean).

JOURNALISTS LOYAL TO CHINA

Shanghai, July 31.
The pro-Japanese Nanking Government has an urgent need of Chinese journalists, prepared to support its policy. Most Chinese journalists, however, are loyal to the Central Government not only in the controlled zone of Hankow but also in the International Settlement here as well as in Hong Kong.

The Propaganda Office of the Nanking Government as a result has opened a school for journalists. Some 120 would-be journalists have registered for the first entrance examination and it is understood that after a training period of three months sixty of them will be sent to the different towns now under Japanese occupation to do propaganda work in favour of the Japanese. (Transocean).

JEW-BAITING MAY BE TONED DOWN

Vienna, July 31.
Hint that Jew-baiting in Austria must be toned down is contained in a decree issued yesterday in which State and Party officials are ordered to conduct dealings with Jews "only according to the Nuremberg laws." (Reuter).

Japan Asking Third Powers To Be Patient

Shanghai, July 31.
An appeal to third Powers to display patience in securing satisfaction from Japan regarding the safeguarding of rights and interests in the zone of operations in China was made by Mr. Tani, Japanese Ambassador at large, in an interview with Japanese pressmen.

He said, "It is hoped that appreciation of the fact that Japan is now mainly concentrating her energy upon military operations will be shown. Allowances should be made for some delays in implementing our guarantees to foreign rights and interests."

"Britain, as indicated by debates in the House of Commons, is showing a strong attitude in respect to Far Eastern problems but this should be taken to indicate that she is now placed in a position to have to recognise the results of Japan's military victories in China."

"It is to be regarded as a sign that Britain has come to rely on Japan who is really able to protect her rights and interests as she no longer leaves the matter to the powerless Chiang Kai-shek regime."

Concluding, he said, "Some adhere to the view that Britain intends to aid the Chiang Kai-shek administration but I cannot subscribe to such an opinion because I cannot believe that Britain, who is so keen about her interests, should bet on a losing horse. The logical conclusion would be that Britain, if she wants to maintain her rights and interests in China, should depend on Japan."

Japanese diplomatic circles also discounted reports that Britain is seeking to mediate in the conflict. It is only natural that conversations regarding protection of British rights and interests should be going on between Britain and Japan since the latter has pledged herself to respect such rights. (Reuter).

TO WATCH JEWISH INTERESTS

Berlin, July 31.
An organisation embracing all Jewish cultural bodies has been founded in Berlin and will as far as possible in the present circumstances, watch the interests of Jews within the Reich. (Reuter).

ON HOLIDAY

Captain S. H. Batty-Smith, A.D.C. to His Excellency the Governor, who is on holiday in Manila. The popular Aide-de-Camp left last week aboard the Empress of Asia.

NOW JAPAN STARTS PROTESTING!

Tokyo, July 31.
The Soviet Russian Charge d'Affaires here protested on Saturday to the Japanese Foreign Office about the new frontier incident at Shatsaosing on the eastern frontier of Manchukuo.

According to a Soviet-Russian account, Manchurian troops trespassed onto Soviet Russian territory. Japanese sources state that the Soviet Russian complaint was rejected as groundless.

At the same time, however, the Japanese Government in a very sharp answer declared that Moscow itself bore the entire responsibility for the increased insecurity on the eastern frontier of Manchukuo. (Transocean).

FIVE KILLED IN COMMUNAL DISTURBANCE

Hindus And Moslems In Death Clash

Patna, July 31.
Five persons were killed and 56 injured in communal riots yesterday in Bhaugapur on the occasion of a Hindu festival. Of those killed, four were Hindus and one was a Moslem.

The Moslems objected to the route followed by the Hindu religious procession, with the result that stray assaults occurred. Elaborate police precautions have been taken and assemblies of five or more persons are prohibited. A curfew has been imposed and the situation is reported to be under control. (Reuter).

RANGOON DEATH ROLL

Rangoon, July 31.
Fifty eight persons have already been killed in the disturbances here. (Reuter).

Western Powers And China

London, July 29.
The ability of western Powers to play any effective part in China would depend preliminarily on a relaxation of the tension in Europe, declared Sir Frederick Whyte, speaking today at the Liberal Summer School at Oxford.

Great Britain might have done more to protect her own interests and assist the Chinese, but British intervention on a large scale was not to be expected, nor as long as the American people remained in their present isolationist mood was it likely that the United States would intervene effectively.

"The time will certainly come when both Britain and America will have a definite part to play. What the two Governments must make sure of is that the financial resources of London and New York are not employed to assist Japan out of her own difficulties, without definite political undertakings which will guarantee both Chinese and Anglo-American interests," he declared. (Reuter).
